

Heavy Metal

An exhibit of railroad art and photography

Heavy Metal, an exhibit of railroad art and photography, was organized and hosted by the Berkeley Arts Council in Martinsburg, West Virginia. The exhibit was mounted at the Council's gallery, located at 116 North Queen Street in Martinsburg. It was open to the public between August 31 and October 1, 2016. The nine images provided here were created by members of the American Society of Railway Artists. The artists' contact information can be found on their individual pages elsewhere on this site by going to ASRA Members and selecting their name from the list provided.

The Entries

Kansas City Southern #2

Judith Anderson

Oil on canvas

16" x 36"

Heavy Ore Hauler

Gil Bennett
Oil on canvas
18" x 24"

A Tunnel Through Time

Rick Borrett

Relief Woodcarving in Basswood with Acrylic

21" x 26" x 2"

Transition
Marc Desobeau
Oil on canvas
18" x 28"

Southern Pacific Daylight

Steve Krueger

Watercolor

20" x 16"

Lackawanna Railroad F3A "664, F3B #664B, & F3A #663

James Mann

Watercolor

18" x 24"

Around Helmstetter Curve

Chris Oldham

Watercolor

18" x 24"

Dragons of my Smokey Mountains

Charles Smith

Oil on linen

14 7/8 x 23"

City Lights

Angela Trotta-Thomas

Oil on canvas

20" x 60"